

Function Generator

Problem Statement: Limited accessibility to affordable and customizable frequency generator circuits restricts the ability of individuals to experiment and explore the field of frequency generation in electronics.

Proposed Design: Utilizing principles of analog electronics and signal processing, our frequency generator circuit employs operational amplifiers, transistors and diodes to generate precise frequencies and waveform shapes such as sine, triangular and square waves, providing a foundation for diverse electronic applications.

Results and Analysis: The frequency generator circuit demonstrates precise frequency accuracy, maintains waveform integrity, and offers customizable parameters for versatile applications. Its stable performance ensures reliable and consistent output over extended periods of operation.

Conclusion: Experience the power of frequency generation through our circuit, offering affordability, customization, and educational value for electronics enthusiasts to explore and innovate.

Team Members:

Muhammad Samiullah
Muhammad Zohaib Irfan

Instructor:

Dr. Ahmed Rasheed